

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A high temperature blocking gel contains a blend of an aqueous fluid and carboxymethyl guar and a crosslinking agent. The gel exhibits excellent hydration capability in brines and positive viscosity generation and controls fluid loss from an oil 5 well during drilling, completion and/or workover operations.